Bliss' Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy.

The prevailing diseases of our cold Northern clime, are pulmonary attacks, which alike affect the strong and the weak, and against which no human foresight can provide. It is all important then in this section of the country, that some simple and speedy remedy should be at hand, and accessible to all from its cheapness. This remedy we are happy to say, exists in Bliss's Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy, proved by thousands of cases. But we feel it to be a duty to caution the public against a counterfeit, and purchase only Bliss's Candy, the original and genuine article; observe his signature on each package. RUPTURE CAN BE CURED!

DR. YORK would respectfully announce to those afflicted with RUPTURE, that he has established himself in Milwaukee, for the purpose of their treatment in all the various forms; and when his directions are followed will warrant a cure or no pay—Dr. Y has received his theory from the most celebrated Physicians east, and having also had much experience in the business, he is satisfied that he can give entire satisfaction to all who may see fit to patronize him.

☞ He can at all times during business hours, be found at the office of Dr. I. SAWYER, on Main street, a few doors south of the German Catholic Church. HORACE E. YORK,

LOCAL MATTERS.

"THE MEAT MARKET."—"A Fellow-Feeling," &c.—The Wisconsin of last evening, in the course of an article on the meat market, has the following paragraph:—

"A word farther with regard to Veal. This meat (cooked in certain ways) makes a fine dish when killed at the age of from seven to ten weeks, yet we decidedly object to the article as sold in many of our shambles. In most instances, it is killed at an age of from three to eight days."

The above is a vile misrepresentation, and a slander on a worthy profession that embraces a number of our best citizens. We won't pretend to compete with our neighbor in the connoisseurship of that kind of meat; not, perhaps, having that natural affinity of which he so often makes a display, but such articles as the above, being totally false and slanderous, should not go forth without a denial.

☞ We learn that Mr. Braun, of the City Brewery, in this city, was severely injured, by falling from a buggy in Racine, a few days ago. Though not fatally hurt, he is maimed for life.

SING, CHILDREN, SING.—The Children of the Second Ward School are to give another of their Concerts to-norrow evening.

We had the pleasure of listening to a rehearsal by the juveniles this morning. They did things up pretty well.

FINE RESIDENCES.—Dr. Dowe and Mr. Crampton, of the firm of Crampton & Osborn, are building a couple of fine brick residences in conjunction, on Wisconsin Street, near Jackson. They are to be two stories and a half high—48 feet by 34—with verandah in front. It is one of the most elegant sites in the city.

RENTS FOR DWELLING HOUSES.—Dr. Johnson's new brick residences on the corner of Oneida and Van Buren streets are to be rented for $350 per year. A new frame double dwelling house on Cass street near Biddle, rents for $120 each part. A fine brick residence on Spring Street Hill rents for $300.

☞ We are under obligations to Hon. I. P. Walker, U. S. Senator, for the Secretary of Treasury's Report on Commerce and Navigation, and to Hon. J. D. Doty for Speeches of Hon Sam. Houston, and Hon. Robt. McLean.

☞ The storm that has been brewing two or three days broke out last night in a "smart sprinkle" of rain, that laid the dust and purified the air. After a temporary obscuration the Sun it came out again with its brightest, loveliest, shiniest face.

☞ West Water Street, from the middle bridge to the intersection of Second Street, is in a horrible condition. Three or four teams get "stuck" there regularly every day. A filling up of deep places and bringing low of the lofty ones, would be of particular advantage along there.

☞ The piles of filth and offal that have been heaped up in several of the streets are being removed with all possible expedition. Some of them do turn up "rich" though.

☞ The strong East wind of yesterday caused the river to rise some 12 or 14 inches. It is down again to-day.

☞ The Columbian Melodists, as will be seen by the programme in our advertising column—the display of banners over on Water St., and the large flaming placard at the door, are to give another of their entertainments to-night. To any body that will go, we will warrant such an extension of their facial muscles, to say nothing of weak waistbands, shaky buttons, and such like, as will be worth twice the admission fee. The Smith Brothers, celebrated as the greatest "ground and lofty tumblers" in the country, will assist in the "exercises."

☞ The Wisconsin calls these "Stupid Times." They would be stupid indeed if they took their character from that notable sheet.

Weighty Characters.—In the pocket-book of a deceased officer of the Massachusetts line, was found a memorandum of the weight of eleven officers of the American Army, as ascertained at West Point in 1783. Among them were the folllowing.

General Washington	209	lbs.
General Lincoln	224	"
General Knox	280	"
General Huntington	232	"
General Greaton	266	"
Colonel Swift	219	"
Colonel Michael Jonson	252	"

FROM SOUTH AFRICA.—A late arrival from the Cape of Good Hope, brings the following intelligence of outbreaks and excesses committed by the savages:

—The Kaffir Chiefs have rebelled against the English authorities, and it was feared at the latest accounts that the Hottentots were also wavering in their loyalty.

—On the 23d of January the Kaffirs, 3000 strong attacked the Colonists near Fort Hare and they were repulsed with a loss of 100 killed.

—On the 30th of Jan., a strong force of Kaffirs attacked Fort White: they were dispersed, with 20 killed.

—On the morning of the 7th, the rebel Chief Hermanus with his Horde of Kaffirs and Hottentots, attacked Fort Beaufort and were repulsed, and the Chief, his son, and a number of his people were killed. His party were completely routed.

MILWAUKEE:

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, MARCH 27

NEW-YORK CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, March 18, 1851.

"Winter never rots in the sky;" and tho' we have seen very little of it in this city during the past three "winter months," as they are called, it was, (like the poor man's beard beneath the negro's razor,) "bound to come." For the last eighteen hours, the snow has fallen with little intermission, and though it melts fast, the storm keeps a little ahead of the thaw—so that we have now more snow on the ground than we have had before for twelve months past.

Yesterday was St. Patrick's day in the morning, and the "Triple leaf of bard and chief, Old Ireland's native Shamrock," was pretty well soaked in the convivial cups of the occasion. Our Irish fellow-citizens had a rousing time, some at one place and some at another; but the crack celebration appears to have been by the "Friendly Sons of St. Patrick," at the Astor House. This Society, in respect to the wars of Ireland, have abstained for several years past, from their usual annual dinners. Among the regular toasts was this:

"The United States and the union of the States: what God hath joined, let not man put asunder."

The Society of "Young Friends of Ireland," in the evening, celebrated the occasion at the Apollo Rooms. John B. Dillon and Richard O'Gorman, the somewhat famous exiles, were present. Among the regular toasts, was one which will hardly find a response in the heart of any lover of true liberty, whatever may be his religious creed. It was as follows:

"Pius the Ninth. While his infidel enemies have become even to themselves contemptible, Pius, like a star of the first magnitude, continues to shine, brilliant, serene and beautiful."

Considering the Pope's persecution of Mazzini, and other Italian patriots, this was a queer toast in New York, where so much sympathy was expressed for the oppressed Romans, whom, ten years ago, Pope Pius was assisting to throw off their yoke, but whom he is now enslaving and punishing for those very efforts at enlargement which he so recently fostered. We all know how appropriately Pius the Ninth was toasted in this country at the commencement of the liberal movement in Italy. We all know what an enthusiastic and rousing demonstration was made by the New-Yorkers to his glory at that time; and we all know that Bishop Hughes, of this city, has made that demonstration the capital upon which to obtain a Cardinal's hat; but who of us can toast Pius the Ninth now? "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

The case of Isaac T. Jewett, the young merchant charged with the violation of Miss Gourgas, a respectable and interesting young lady to whom he had been for years "engaged," has been again postponed, two of the jurors having just lost, one a father, and another a brother, by death. Next Thursday or Friday we shall have the upshot of this brutal outrage. The court room has been crowded to suffocation during the progress of the trial.

Yesterday, one Thomas McEwen was fooled into giving $20 for a pocket-book, apparently full of bank notes, which a stranger alleged that he had just found on the sidewalk. When too late, the dupe ascertained the mock bank notes to be worthless.

The absurd excitement in New-Bedford about a steamer and 100 armed men having left the Navy Yard at Charlestown, Mass., in order to make a descent upon the fugitives in that whaling little city, cannot but raise a smile on the face of any man that has the slightest perception of the ludicrous. Imagine two men, who had ridden 60 miles on horseback, after midnight, rushing into the town with the terrible news! Fancy the agitation of "the principal men of the place!" See them rushing to that "Hall" sacred to "Liberty," and ringing the bell to alarm the unconscious inhabitants from their slumbers.—Behold a "large concourse of people" in their night caps, inquiring, "What's to pay?" See them shaking in their shoes, but resolving to "stand by one another, and live or die together." Then tell me, if this had not better have been postponed till the 1st of April.

[It is about as ludicrous, tho' not as wicked as the President's Proclamation against the Boston folks.—Ed. Free Dem.]

P. T. Barnum, Esq., having been charged with collusion in the auction sale of tickets to Jenny Lind's Concerts, promptly offers a reward of $5000, to any person who shall prove by respectable witnesses, that he has ever been, in any case, or the remotest degree, connected with the bidding at those sales. All who know Mr. Barnum thoroughly, and are candid men, will regard his offer as superfluous. The charges against Mr. Barnum have been the fabrications of disappointed speculators in tickets, some of whose gouging operations he has foiled. Mr. Barnum is not such an idiot as to risk his certain gains, (to say nothing of his reputation,) by connecting any such transparent humbug with so distinguished a person and general a favorite as Jenny Lind. Should he do so, he would deserve to equestrianize a rail.

In a few weeks, we shall rejoice again in the presence of the great Swedish Songstress, and the noblest foreigner that has come to America since the visit of Gen. La Fayette. She will sing for a series of nights at Castle Garden.

TRUTH PROMOTED BY DISCUSSION.—Hon. Charles Durkee, in a letter of the 24th instant, says:

"The friends of 'Land Reform' have much reason to congratulate themselves on the favorable result of the recent debates at Madison, and at Milwaukee. I say favorable result, not from any specific knowledge I have of the immediate effect of this discussion, but from an abiding faith I have in the principles which, I understand, you so ably defended in your recent speech, delivered in your city. All we need to ensure a triumph in this noble cause is a general debate, and a candid hearing throughout the country."

The Manitowoc Herald says:

Lewis Tappan was once asked by a "Fugitive Slave" to give something to enable him to purchase the freedom of his wife and children. He refused to give anything to buy them, but said "I will give you five dollars if you will steal them."

We don't believe it. We should like to hear from him.

MORE HIGHER LAW.—The Watertown Register, speaking of the new License Law, says:

"We consider the law unjust, arbitrary and uncalled for and not entitled to the respect of any party, and shall use what influence we possess in procuring its repeal. It will be seen that licenses will not be called for, and the law will be placed at defiance. We do not blame any one for taking such a course."

CHURCH TRIAL.—It is reported that an Episcopal clergyman recently called to a church near New Haven, has compromised himself with the daughter of one his wealthiest parishioners. An Ecclesiastical Court is sitting on his case at Brooklyn, N. Y., where he was about to become pastor of St. Thomas Chapel.

ADOPTING NEW ENGLAND CUSTOMS.—The Manitowoc county Court is in session—Timothy O. Howe presiding. The court was opened with prayer by the Rev. Mr. Lewis.

Mrs. Judson (Fanny Forrester) under date of October 13th, gives the melancholy intelligence that her health has become so impaired by continued disease for the last five months, that there is but little hope of permanent relief except in a return to America.

The mission, she also says, is enfeebled by sickness and death.

Senator Mallory of Florida has not declined the Senatorship.

A public dinner is talked of in Chicago among the friends of that redoubtable champion of western interest, Long John Wentworth.

Jenny Lind, it is said, will give afternoon concerts of sacred music in New York, during the anniversay week in May.

Joanna Baillie, whose literary life stretches back into the last century, and whose early recollections were of the days of Burke, Dr. Johnson, Goldsmith, Sir Joshua Reynolds, and the great men who figured before the French revolution, expired on Sunday evening, the 23d ult., aged 89.

Barnum has been making another tremendous temperance speech in New Orleans.

The deaths by cholera in New Orleans are 6 or 8 per week.

Capt. Long, of the U. S. Navy, is to command the National ship employed to bring over to this country Kossuth and his companions. Capt. Long will be the bearer of the letter of invitation from this Government.

The case of Willis against Forrest for assault, was to have been tried on Monday of this week.

The Missouri Republican says, that the Pacific Railroad will be commenced at an early day and prosecuted with energy, although the grant of lands asked from Congress has been refused. It adds, that there is already an actual capital of more than three millions provided for the commencement of the road. Three routes have been surveyed and reported to the directors, but it is uncertain as yet which of them, if either, will be adopted.

The California fever has got to Norway.—Two hundred and eighty-five young men, many of them used to mining, have just sailed from Christiana for San Francisco.

At Guerrero, Mexico, on the 26th of Jan., there was an earthquake. At the same moment there appeared in the heavens a most luminous meteor, which passed from east to west, accompanied by terrible thunder.

In return for Barnum's $500, Father Matthew has presented him with a splendid gold medal.

Sir John Cam Hobhouse, the friend of Lord Byron and the companion of his wanderings has been made a peer of the realm by the title of Baron Braughton de Gyfford in the county of Wilts. This was one of the last acts of the Russel Ministry.

☞ The greatest fears are entertained of another destructive Crevasse at New Orleans. Several openings have already appeared.

FIRE.—The grist mill of Mr. G. J. SELLICK, situated on the Rubicon, about three miles above Neosho, was entirely destroyed by fire on the night of the 19th inst. There was an insurance upon it—to what amount, our informant had been unable to learn.—Watertown Chron.

☞ BLISS'S COD LIVER OIL CANDY.—We feel it a duty to the public to say a few words in commendation of this unrivalled curative for Coughs, Colds and Pulmonary attacks of every description. We have not a doubt were this candy taken in season Consumption would be warded off nine cases out of ten—certainly the sufferings of the patient would be greatly alleviated. Even when the Candy is used in the last stages, it produces a most soothing and beneficial effect upon the Consumptive individual. So numerous are the counterfeits that we must caution our friends against them. Inquire for Bliss's Candy, and receive no other. For sale by S. JOHNSON, Jr. 151 East Water street. m21

NOW READY,

THE GOLDEN LYRE:

A NEW Collection of Church Music adapted to the various metres now in use, together with a great variety of new Anthems, Sentences and Chants, for choirs, singing classes, musical associations, and social sacred music circles—by V C TAYLOR, author of "Taylor's Sacred Music Minstrel," "Choral Anthems," &c &c

"We have explored its contents enough to dare to speak well of it Mr Taylor is, himself, the author of a good part of the work, and he shows musical feeling, taste and invention, which make it no presumption in him to appear as a composer * * * Mr Taylor's pieces are commended by their melody woven into all the four parts, by their expressiveness, which always varies with the subject, and by their uniformly artistic style * * * And last, but not least, the work is more beautifully and clearly printed than any work which we remember of the kind"—N Y Tribune

"We believe the book to be greatly superior to any that has preceded it, and we think it may claim to be better adapted to, and more suitable for, the use of choirs"—Saroni's Musical Times

LAND LIMITATION DISCUSSION,

In Gardiner's Hall, before the Young Men's Association, March 13th, 14th and 15th, 1851.

REMARKS OF S. M. BOOTH

The revival of letters, the discovery and application of the Mariner's compass to navigation, and the consequent establishment of extended international commerce, ushered in the reign of civtlization, and gave a powerful stimulus to all branches of industry. The constabulary force and bands of mercenary soldiers superseded the use of a feudal tenantry, and relieved the Lords and Barons from their military dependence on the knights of the spade and the hoe. The improvements in Agriculture, in Manufactures and the Arts, and the application of machinery to the various industrial pursuits created new wants and brought the laborers into ruinous competition with each other, and the reign of wages-slavery—far more grinding and bitter than feudal servitude—began. The price of labor was reduced to the lowest point adequate to support life, and as machinery created a superabundance of products, and over-stocked the market, a part of the laborers must be turned out of employment, without lands of their own to cultivate, and with no resource but beggary or crime, till a scarcity of products again raised the price of labor, when the same process of over-production was repeated and followed by similar results. So that through the combined influence of Land Monopoly, Capital and Machinery, the anomolous spectacle is presented, in the old world and in the new, that, when the products of labor necessary to the comfort and happiness of man are cheapest and most abundant, the condition of the laboring landless poor is most helpless and wretched. And the scarcity and costliness of these products, by creating a demand for labor, becomes a blessing to the poor; and their cheapness and abundance, by driving labor out of the market, and compelling those who work to sell themselves to the highest bidder, becomes a curse. And so terribly have the gifts of God been perverted by oppressive legislation, and so extensively have the bounties of this Providence been appropriated and monopolized by the few, that when the earth is fullest of all things useful to make the cup of human happiness o'erflow, and when one universal chorus of thanksgiving should go up to Heaven from every household, for the abundant supply of all their wants, the rich are rolling in their wealth, and the poor, whose hands have created it, are actually begging, and starving, and dying for want of bread.

In Ireland, with land enough, if properly divided and cultivated, to support twice the population, a million of human beings have perished of hunger within the last six years, crushed out of existence by the hand of Land Monopoly. Let those who decry the principle of Land Limitation, on the ground that it will cheapen the price of land, go to unhappy Ireland, where land monopoly has had full sway for centuries, and has had ample scope to work out its legitimate results, and he will find the land dearer than gold, but the people held cheaper than dust; for the soil has been enriched with the hearts' blood of millions of her people, who, to enhance the value of the lands, have been sacrificed on the altar of Land Monopoly. He will find eight millions of people in the green Isle of the ocean, and the soil all monopolized by less than 3,000 land owners. In England, at the beginning of the present century, there were 240.000 land owners. Now there are but about 30,000; or but one-eighth as many land owners as there were 50 years ago. And this could not have resulted from the system of entail, for entailed estates can not be alienated, but it has occurred chiefly by the purchase of lands held by titles similar to those which obtain in this country. And the same process of absorption—of concentrating the lands of the many in the hands of the few is going on in this country, especially in the older States.

In Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, and in all the older settled free States, the smaller landed proprietors are selling out to the large and wealthy land owners, and removing to the new States, where land is cheap and abundant. The number of small land owners is constantly growing less, and the number of large land owners is continually increasing, notwithstanding the rapid increase of population. And under the present land system, where the motto is, "Every one for himself and the devil take the hindmost," this evil must increase; and when the population becomes dense, and the lands are all monopolized and appropriated by the few, we shall have a repetition, on our own soil, of the scenes of destitution and want, of over-grown wealth and helpless poverty, which now makes Ireland an Aceldama of tears and death.

Nor, if the past, is an earnest of the future, are the improvements in science, in agriculture, and machinery, and the multiplication of railroads and telegraphs, and the facilities of inter-communication to inure to the benefit of the landless laborer. They only serve to swell the wealth of the capitalists, and to make broader and more impassable the gulf between the wealthy land-holders, and the landless poor. Take, for illustration, the condition of England now, compared with its condition 50 years ago. In 1792, the whole productive power of labor in England was in the ratio of one man's labor for each inhabitant. In 1817, owing to the introduction of machinery and the discoveries in science, the whole productive power of labor in England was in the ratio of twelve men's labor to every inhabitant: that is, the ratio was 12 times greater than it was 25 years previous, and at this time it must be 30 times greater. And yet the condition of the laborers—those who produce all the wealth in England—instead of being improved in this ratio, as it should be under a just system, is far worse than it was in 1792. In a Chronological work, entitled Belsham's Chronology, published in London in 1816, in which the average price of labor and of grain is given, for a period of 48 years—from 1761 to 1808—it is shown that the price of wages in pints of wheat—the standard of human sustenance—had fallen one third, or from 90 to 60 pints a week, while the price of rents had all the while been rising. Thus making the disproportion against the laboring classes doubly oppressive.

Nor is it any answer to say, that you can not reason from the condition of the laboring classes in England, to the condition of the laboring classes in this country, and that the depressed condition of laborers there, is owing to the system of nobility; because, if this were so, the wealth produced by the laboring classes would go to the lords and nobles, many of whom are poor enough. Whereas it goes to the capitalists—to the money Kings who have built up a power behind the throne greater than the throne itself, and who dictate peace and war, and govern the nations with their golden sceptre. Nor is it attributable to the heavy burdens of taxation, tho' this aggravates their evils. For the taxes are paid and still wealth enough remains in the community to make all independent, provided the laborers could retain possession of the fruits of their own industry. But by the system of Land Monopoly, being denied free access the earth, and rendered unable to become their own employers, and therefore unable to press into their service the powers of nature, and the fertilizing agencies of air and water, of light and heat, they are compelled to sell their services to the capitalists who employ machinery—that is the powers of nature—to subdue nature herself for their benefit, and retain all the wealth the laborers produce, above that which is necessary for their subsistence. So that under the system of Land Monopoly, the wealth, instead of going to the producer, goes to the employer—to the capitalist—and even the powers of nature are put into requisition to work out for the toilers a more abject poverty, and make their condition more dependent and helpless. But under a land limitation system, the laborers would be secure of a home, and land enough to furnish a supply for their wants, and the producers being able to become their own employers, would enjoy the fruits of their own industry, and then machinery, improvements in the arts and sciences, and all the powers of nature would combine to promote the common good of all.

My answer to those who ask why do you go to Great Britain for your illustrations, is; Human nature is the same everywhere, and the money power is no more oppressive and exacting there, than here. I take England and Ireland for illustrations, because there the system of Land Monopoly has gone to seed—because there it has had time to mature its fruits and work out its legitimate results; and if there were any redeeming features in the system, there has been ample time for their development. We point to the clustering curses which Land Monopoly has wrought out for the people of Great Britain, as prophetic warnings of the desolations which make haste and will not tarry for the landless poor in this country, unless the sovereign voice of the people shall say to the spirit of Land Monopoly, by a legal enactment, THUS FAR, AND NO FARTHER.

But we need not go abroad to find illustrations of the evils of Land Monopoly. We find them every where at home—obvious as the light—omnipresent as the surrounding air. What mean those strikes, which occur almost weekly in the different cities of the Union, among the carpenters, the hatters, the shoemakers, the tailors, the ironworkers, the operatives in our factories, and the workmen of every trade and occupation? They are homeless and landless, unable to become their own employers, and the market is overstocked with labor, and their wages are reduced below the living point, and they combine, in vain, to demand of their employers a higher price for their work, to enable them to keep themselves and families from starving. Why are so many strong-handed men, able and willing to work, seeking employment, in vain? Why are 300 carpenters, in Milwaukee, at this hour, out of employment, and why have many of them for months been unable to find any work to do? Why are three-fourths of the families in this city, to-day, living in other people's houses, at exorbitant rents, but because Land Monopoly, right here, has so increased the price of land as to put it out of the power of the great majority to purchase, and compelled them to make a virtue of necessity, and to submit to high rents, instead of building Homes of their own. Nor is the evil confined to this city. The improved lands in this State are fast passing out of the hands of the original purchasers, and into the hands of capitalists and moneyed men. If the statement made in this Hall, recently, by a large real estate holder, be true, the capitalists have already covered with their mortgages nine-tenths of all the farms in the Northern, Eastern, and Southern Sections of the State.

The farmers, mechanics, and laboring men of Wisconsin, have created the wealth of Wisconsin, have built up its cities and villages, have cleared up its forests and broken up its prairies, have cultivated its farms, and constructed its roads, and dotted them all over with human habitations—have made Wisconsin an astonishment to her sister States, and the pride and glory of the Union. And yet, unless the spirit of Land Monopoly be checked by legal limitation, many of the producers of this wealth will be driven off from their old homesteads to the wilderness, on the outskirts of civilization, again to lay anew the foundations of other people's homes, and to plant a new harvest for the sickles of the Land Monopolists.

All the wealth of the world has been produced by labor. To show you the vast amount of wealth produced by the laboring classes, which goes unrecompensed into the coffers of the capitalists, I refer you to the article, "Labor," in Encyclopedia Americana. The annual market value of labor is there estimated at "one-fifth of the value of the whole capital of a community. That is, supposing the capital to be stationary, the value of the whole capital, including lands, buildings, animals, furniture, utensils, and every veodible thing whatsoever, is consumed and reproduced every five years." That is, the value of the labor of the people of Wisconsin, in five years, would equal the entire value of all the present wealth of Wisconsin, including all the lands, and buildings, and personal property, and every thing which constitutes capital.—And this, too, on the supposition that the capital does not increase during the five years! And all the increase of the capital during this time, would go to swell the sum total of the value of labor. This shows you, at a glance, where the wealth of the community comes from. What becomes of this wealth? But a small portion of it, ever comes into the possession of the landless laborers, but it goes to swell the previous accumulations of the capitalists. Suppose now, that it required one half of what the laboring classes produce to support themselves and families. Though they were worth nothing to-day, under a just system which secured wealth to those who produce it, in ten years' time they would possess an aggregate of wealth, as the fruit of their own earnings, equal to the entire value of all the property, real and personal, in the State. And yet our opponents accuse us of "legalized robbery," for our efforts to secure to the laborer his rights, and uphold a system which thus takes from the laborer the fruit of his toil, and transfers it, without any equivalent, to the hands of the non-producers.

Look, too, at the social and moral evils which grow out of the present system of Land Monopoly. The great mission of every human being on the earth, is the harmonious development of all his powers of body and mind, and the devotion of those powers to just and worthy ends. But as their free right to the earth is denied, it is almost impossible for the landless laboring classes to educate themselves properly. For example: here is a man who is physically strong, but mentally weak. Now, to make himself a complete man, he should cultivate and strengthen, by appropriate exercise, his mental powers. For education consists chiefly in the proper exercise of all the faculties. But he is poor, and dependant on his own exertions for the supply of his wants. If he had a free homestead of his own, and land enough to cultivate, but a portion of his time would be necessary to secure a supply of his wants, and the rest of his time he could devote to mental improvement. But he has not, and therefore he must go into the market and sell his strongest talent, which is ability to work. But here is another poor landless man, of a strong mind, but of a feeble constitution, who needs bodily exercise. But he can't do more than half as much manual labor as the strong man can, and should he attempt to compete with him in the labor market, he would starve. He must therefore sell his strong talent to procure the means of a livelihood, and confine himself to sedentary and literary efforts, and sink into a premature grave. And Society is thus deprived of the best services of both these men, because the powers of neither were fully developed; the one lacking time and opportunity for mental, and the other for physical culture. And they each stand as the representatives of their class, like a tree with a great strong limb, shot out on one side, but without symmetrical branches and decaved at the heart, furnishing comparatively little shade and fruit while living, and removed, without regret, when dead, to make room for others.

Again. Mind, is the great agent which enables man to modify and control matter. Mere unassisted, unintelligent labor can accomplish but little. But educated mind, searches out the mysteries of nature, fathoms the deep springs of knowledge, makes discoveries in agriculture, and in the arts and sciences, invents machinery, and makes all the powers of nature tributary to the service of man, and thus increases the productiveness of human labor a thousand fold. And as nature is more varied than art, were men, by the possession of free homes, and the means of becoming their own employers, relieved from the reality and apprehension of want, and left free to follow the teachings of nature, and to cultivate and expand their powers, the progress of the race, in knowledge and wealth, and in all that renders life happy and glorious, would be immeasurably accelerated. But in the present condition of things, the great mass of the people have to struggle for life, and the means of its continuance, and have no opportunity for the full and harmonious development of their powers.

But Land Monopoly is opposed to all reform, and tends to conserve all the abuses of society. Wealth governs by talent—for mind moves the world, and wealth rules mind by subsidizing it. Now just see how this is done. Here is a man who has talents—a strong and cultivated mind. His talents are his chief capital, and on them he must depend for his support. Now, take any reform you please, he cannot advocate it, and live. And why? Because the people don't like to pay a man for reproving them of their sins. It is bad enough, they think, to be told publicly that they are sinners, without being asked to pay for the information. It is too much like calling on a criminal to pay the expenses of his arrest and conviction, to make it pleasant.—Take Land Reform, for instance. He can't advocate the cause of the landless, nor can the landless command his services, and for the plainest of reasons—they are poor and have no money to pay him, and he can't work for nothing. The money is to be had on the other side of the question. And as for starving, for conscience's sake, it isn't to be thought of, when there is abundance of land. And so he fills his mouth with the good things the land monopolists furnish him, and keeps quiet.—Or, if he talks at all, he talks for the clients who pay. Hence, those who are devoted to the science of fees—fees simple, double, and multiplied I know not how many times, are generally found on the Land Monopolists' side. 'Twould be strange if they were not. They would not be true to their profession and to their historical reputation, if they were not. They would not be taking the part of those, who, like themselves, live by their wits, if they were not.

So with the clergyman. He may denounce unpopular sins—sins in general and sins in particular, if committed by the poorer members. But let him touch a sin which nestles in the bosom of the church, under the cloak of one of his richest members, and he might as well stir up a nest of rattle-snakes with his ungloved digits.

It is just so with the Editor. He must trim his sheets to the popular breeze, if he would sail smoothly and swiftly. He must find out where it rains porridge and put his dish right under, or go to bed supperless. The vices pay better than the virtues, and they can afford to, because they have a great many more customers. Hence, an editor can't advocate reform, and live out of the profit of his paper. And you ought not to expect him to do it. Especially, in a community which has been educated to regard acquisitiveness, secretiveness, combativeness, destructiveness, and two or three other nesses as the chief cardinal virtues, and their opposites as unpardonable sins. Nor can he advocate Land Reform, without arraying against him Land Monopolists and capitalists, and becoming quite familiar with the words, "Stop my paper." And I could not, if I had not the most friendly understanding with the people, growing out of a solemn covenant I made with them years ago, in which,—bread and butter not being once named as part of the conditions—I agreed on my part to speak just what I thought, and the people, on their part, agreed to let me.

But under a system of Land Limitation, with free homes for all, and the means of becoming their own employers, if they chose, wealth would remain to him who produced it, and the people would be independent. And whenever any proposition for reform was presented, instead of looking out to the public weather vanes,—which are generally regulated by a few skilful artificers, whose trade is to manufacture public opinion—they would examine the proposition in the light of first principles; and instead of asking, as now, will it pay, they would ask, as they should, is it right.

THE BRITISH PERIODICALS,

AND THE FARMER'S GUIDE.

LEONARD SCOTT & CO.

No. 54 Gold street, New-York,

Continue to publish the four leading British Quarterly Reviews and Blackwood's Magazine; in addition to which they have recently commenced the publication of a valuable Agricultural work, called the

"Farmer's Guide to Scientific and Practical Agriculture,"

By Henry Stephens, F.R. S., of Edinburgh, author of the "Book of the Farm," etc, etc; assisted by Jno. P. Norton, M. A., New Haven, Professor of Scientific Agriculture in Yale College, etc.

This highly valuable work will comprise two large royal octavo volumes, containing over 1600 pages, with 18 or 20 splendid steel engravings, and more than 600 engravings on wood, in the highest style of the art, illustrating almost every implement of husbandry now in use by the best farmers, the best methods of ploughing, planting, haying, harvesting, &c, the various domestic animals in their highest perfection; in short, the pictorial feature of the book is unique, and will render it of incalculable value to the student of agriculture.

The work is being published in semi-monthly numbers, of 64 pages each, exclusive of the steel engravings, and is sold at 25 cents each, or $6 for the entire work in numbers, of which there will be at least twenty-two.

The British Periodicals re-published are as follows, viz:

LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, (Conservative,)
EDINBURGH REVIEW, (Whig,)
NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, (Free Church,)
WESTMINSTER REVIEW, (Liberal,) and BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURGH MAGAZINE (Tory)

Although these works are distinguished by the political shades above indicated, yet but a small portion of their contents is devoted to political subjects. It is their literary character which gives them their chief value, and in that they stand confessedly far above all other journals of their class. Blackwood, still under the masterly guidance of Christopher North, maintains its ancient celebrity, and is, at this time, unusually attractive, from the serial works of Bulwer and other literary notables, written for that magazine, and first appearing in its columns both in Great Britain and in the United States. Such works as "The Caxtons" and "My New Novel," [both by Bulwer,] "My Peninsular Medal," "The Green Hand," and other serials, of which numerous rival editions are issued by the leading publishers in this country, have to be reprinted by those publishers from the pages of Blackwood, after it has been issued by Messrs Scott & Co, so that subscribers to the Reprint of that Magazine may always rely on having the earliest reading of these fascinating tales.

THE POPULAR CYCLOPEDIA OR MODERN DOMESTIC MEDICINE

BY KEITH IMRAY, M. D.

Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians, and Licentiate of the Royal College of Surgeons, Edinburgh.

AMERICAN EDITION.

One large Octavo Volume, substantially bound.

THIS work presents a concise but clear view of the predisposing causes, premonitory signs, and distinguishing symptoms of disease, with the methods of cure recommended by the most eminent physicians.

The best modes of employing the medicines in general use are faithfully described; and the most approved rules for regulating diet and regimen during the periods of disease and convalescence, are amply furnished.

The art of Preserving Health, embracing special Treatises on Diet, Air, Temperance, Bathing, Clothing, and Exercise, is fully considered.

The publishers of the American edition have introduced Dr. Imray's work with short, illustrated, very complete sketches of Anatomy, Physiology and Surgery; and with directions for the domestic management of the sick, the preparation of their food, and the economy of the sick room, &c. They have also annexed a comprehensive MOTHER'S MEDICAL GUIDE, containing directions for the preservation of health during pregnancy, rules for managing the lying-in-room, and the treatment of infants, including air, clothing, exercise, &c. Also, a large number of valuable prescriptions, arranged for ready application; and a very full classified table of medicines, exhibiting their medicinal properties, doses and uses.

The Index is unusually complete, making the whole a most perfect and valuable work for families.

It can confidently be recommended to physicians and apothecaries, as well as to the public, as a book that will be found singularly convenient for ready reference.

GREAT ARRIVAL OF

191 East Water st., Martin's New Block.

EXTRAORDINARY AND DAILY INCREASING ATTRACTIONS AT

CAMERON'S NEW-YORK STORE.

Established in Milwaukee in May, 1849,

IN connection with one of the most extensive Importing Houses in New York city, for the purpose of establishing a large and permanent business, on the Cash system.

The proprietors of this already well known and popular establishment take this way of informing numerous patrons, in town and country, that they have made such arrangements to meet the exigencies of their rapidly increasing business, as will enable them to offer still greater inducements to purchasers. Their Fall and Winter stock is beyond comparison the most extensive and varied embracing every article usually found in first class houses in the Atlantic cities.

In the Western Country,

To those who have already dealt with them, they deem it unnecessary to allude to their ability and determination to undersell any other House west of New York city. To those who have not yet examined

THEIR STOCK OR PRICES,

they would say, through their connection in New-York, and an almost unlimited business, they are enabled to keep a resident buyer of great experience in New York and Boston markets, and many other goods are imported direct for their own trade in the original packages, thus securing many that cannot be found at any other establishment here.

Their arrangements are so complete that they can, and pledge themselves that they will sell every piece and style of goods as low as they can be bought in the most celebrated cheap stores in New York or Boston. Every piece and style of goods in this establishment, being bought of first hands or at auction, or imported direct, and consequently from

25 to 30 PER CENT. LESS than Western Merchants pay for them—in fact we sell many styles of goods for less than western merchants pay for them in New York or Boston. Every article will be marked at the very lowest price, and will be guaranteed less in every instance than a similar article can be bought elsewhere.

We annex the following list of prices—which we think can hardly fail to convince the public—that this is not one of the humbug pretensions of the day.

☞ Bliss' Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy.—The Codfish has furnished our yeomen with a wide field of labor, and the tastes of our people with a delicious article of food for many years, but it is only until a recent period it has been found, that the oil extracted from the liver of the fish could be used as an article of the materia medica. Since its introduction it has wrought the most wonderful changes in the features of the affections of the throat and lungs. The virtues of Cod Liver Oil are acknowledged the world over, and all those virtues are found combined in Bliss's Candy, which stands unrivalled as a remedy for Coughs, &c. Beware of counterfeits.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

Ætna Insurance Company, HARTFORD, Conn.—ANNUITY FUND, $150,000.—This well known and long established Company, having organized a new department for LIFE INSURANCE, with an entirely distinct capital, exclusively pledged with its reserved accumulations, for the payment of losses upon Life Insurance only, and in no event liable for the other debts, contracts, or engagements of the Company, is now prepared to issue Policies on Lives, at rates materially reduced from those charged by the Mutual Companies. The leading idea of the system adopted by this Company, is, to ascertain precisely what it is worth to insure a given amount upon a life for a certain time, and to charge precisely that sum, and no more: it is attended with none of those vexatious contingencies which are inseparable from the mutual system—it has nothing to do with scrip dividends or bonuses, the declaration of which upon true and equitable principles, is attended with so much difficulty and perplexity—it is perfectly simple, as well as uniform and equal in all its operations.

The promptness, fairness and liberality which have marked all the dealings of this Company, for a period of thirty years, and the well known character of its officers and directors, afford the surest guaranty that its affairs will be so managed as to afford to the assured that ultimate safety and security which is of first importance in Life Assurance.

Policies will be granted payable after death, or upon the party's arriving at a specified age, at his option; in either case, free from the claims of creditors. The usual extra risks will be assumed by this Company at reasonable rates.

Pamphlets containing Rates of Premium, and information in relation to the plan of operations, and all necessary papers to effect insurance, may be obtained at the Agency of this Company.

TO THE LADIES.

DYER'S WASHING, BLEACHING AND

CLEANSING FLUID!

The greatest labor-saving article yet discovered

BY its use, washing machines and boards and hard rubbing, are entirely dispensed with, and not one quarter of the labor is required to do the washing of a family. The Fluid is a chemical compound of sufficient strength to extract all foreign substances from the cloth, by simply boiling a small quantity of it with the clothes, and without the slightest injury to the most delicate fabric.

The expense is not more than that of the soap ordinarily used, and besides this it will be seen that the great wear and tear of clothing consequent upon the old method of, hard rubbing upon a board, and the use of the pounding barrel, is wholly dispensed with, and an immense saving is thus made. It is emphatically the female's friend.

☞ Warranted to give perfect satisfaction or the money will be refunded.

Prepared only by Charles Dyer, Jr, at his medical depot, 62 Westminster st, Providence, R. I.
